

Hi Mr.X,

As part of our continuing efforts to keep your Udemy account secure, our Trust & Safety team has taken the precautionary measure of invalidating your account's password.

To log back in, you'll need to set a new password during your next visit. You can do so using the button below or by referring to our help center article on resetting your Udemy password. For more information on choosing a strong password, please review our tips on keeping your account secure.

If you have any difficulties with the directions above, you can get help in our Help Center. We appreciate your patience and cooperation.

Set Your New Password

Delivered by Udemy 600 Harrison Street, 3rd Floor, San Francisco, CA 94107.